CURRICULUMS

Basic Liberal Studies Program. Baccalaureate degree candidates in the College of Arts and Sciences fulfill the University's general education requirements in the process of completing the Basic Liberal Studies Program (BLS). Courses are selected from the Basic Liberal Studies list approved by the College of Arts and Sciences (see below). Students are limited to one course per discipline (as identified by course code) within each division, except that they may take both parts of a designated two-course sequence.

~~Students in B.A. programs earn nine credits each in Letters, Natural Sciences, Social Sciences, and Fine Arts and Literature (three of which must be in Fine Arts), three credits in Mathematics, and six credits in English Communication, including at least three credits from a course devoted to written communication skills.~~

Students may not apply courses from their concentration department to the Basic Liberal Studies requirements in Fine Arts and Literature, Letters, Natural Sciences and Social Sciences except that students presenting a double concentration may apply courses from one concentration department toward these requirements.

Students in Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) programs must satisfy the University's foreign language/culture requirement in one of the following ways: 1) course work through the intermediate level (104 for modern languages; 302 for classical languages), or 2) demonstration of competence through examination, or 3) study abroad in an approved academic program for one semester.

Students in Bachelor of Science (B.S.), Bachelor of Fine Arts (B.F.A.), and Bachelor of Music (B.M.) programs must satisfy the University's foreign language/culture requirement as specified.
